11 Thoughts You Have When You're Pregnant and it's Hot AF Out

Being heavily pregnant in the high summer is the worst. These are the thoughts that run through a pregnant woman's head when the mercury rises.

By Emma Steven

1. "Is that sweat or did my water just break?"

Whoever said pregnant women glow has never seen one suffer when the thermometer goes above 75 degrees. All that extra insulation and a sped-up metabolism means a whole new world of sweating opportunities you never knew existed (hello, boob sweat!?) Pass me a towel, somebody!

2. "Who needs shoes?"

Pregnancy swelling gets so much worse in the heat, so you've said goodbye ankles and pretty summer sandals and hello cankles. Sometimes the only thing your feet can fit into is your husband's flip-flops or those old pool slides from the back of the closet. Hey at least you can skip the pain of being pregnant in hells, right? The good news is putting your feet up is pretty much doctor's orders.

I want to use this means to let the world know that all hope is not lost Getting pregnant after having tubes clamped and burned, I know IVF and Reversal could help but it way too cost, i couldn't afford it either and i so desire to add another baby to my family been trying for 5 years, not until i came across Dr Ekpewu, who cast a pregnancy/Fertility spell for me and i got pregnant.I hope that women out there who are going through the same fears and worries I went through in GETTING PREGNANT , will find your contact as i drop it here on this site, and solution will come to them as they contact you. Thank you and God bless you to reach him email via: dretobospelltemple@gmail.com, or whatsapp,+2348073275538
